

How to make a vaccination appointment in Jämtland Härjedalen

You can make an appointment in various ways, by logging in to 1177.se and by calling a special telephone number. You will need a Swedish telephone number and your electronic identification in order to make an appointment by logging in to 1177.se. When you log in to 1177.se all of the text will be in Swedish.

If you do not have a Swedish personal identification number or electronic identification, you will need to call a special telephone number to make an appointment. The special telephone number is 063-14 22 50.

If you do not speak Swedish, you may be entitled to an interpreter for your language to get information and make a vaccination appointment. Make it known that you need an interpreter when you call to make the vaccination appointment. Let them know which language you need. The staff member will try to contact an interpreter who can help with the call. Please ask someone you know for help if you are not able to speak Swedish or English yourself when requesting an interpreter.

How to make an appointment via 1177.se

- Select a health centre and click on it. You can choose the health centre you want.
- Click on the Boka tid för vaccination mot covid-19 [Make a COVID-19 vaccination appointment] link, which is under the Våra e-tjänster [Our e-services] heading.
- Enter your personal identification number and choose the type of electronic identification you want to use to log in.
- Read through the text and make sure you understand the content of the text. Then click Fortsätt [Continue]. You will then arrive on a page where you have to answer some questions. When you have answered the questions, click Nästa [Next].
- You can click on Boka tid [Make an appointment] if you belong to a group that is currently allowed to make a vaccination appointment. You will then be able to see whether any appointment times are free.
- When you finish making your appointment, you will receive a confirmation. This confirmation will tell you where to go for the vaccination.

How to book an appointment over the telephone

Call 063-14 22 50. You will receive instructions on how to make a vaccination appointment.

The 063-14 22 50 telephone number is solely for making vaccination appointments. You cannot call this number to ask questions about COVID-19. If you have questions about COVID-19, you can read more here at 1177.se or call 1177 on the telephone. You cannot make a vaccination appointment by calling 1177. Likewise, it is not possible to call your health centre to make a vaccination appointment.

If you cannot make it to your appointment

You should not get vaccinated if you are ill and have COVID-19 symptoms. If this is the case, you should cancel your vaccination appointment and instead submit a test to find out whether you have the disease.

To cancel appointments that were made by telephone:

- Call 063-14 22 50 and select the Avboka tid [Cancel appointment] option.
- Speak your name, personal identification number and the appointment time you want to cancel.
- Then you can call 063-14 22 50 again to make a new appointment for a later date.

When you call, all of the information will be in Swedish. When you call to make a new appointment, you can say that you need an interpreter. Let them know which language you need.

To cancel appointments that were made via 1177.se:

- Log in to 1177.se with your electronic identification. When you log in, all of the text will be in Swedish.
- Look under the Bokade tider [Scheduled appointments] heading. There you will see your vaccination appointment. Click on your scheduled appointment to proceed with the cancellation.